FINDINGS, CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATION OF THE UNITED STATES MAGISTRATE JUDGE

Pursuant to Special Order No. 3-251, this pro se prisoner case has been automatically referred for pretrial management. Based on the relevant filings and applicable law, the plaintiff's claims should be DISMISSED for failure to prosecute or follow court orders.

I. BACKGROUND

On July 7, 2014, Dennis Skinner, a prisoner at the Dallas County Jail, filed this civil action seeking relief under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 based on the conditions of his confinement on behalf of James Rogers (Plaintiff), also a prisoner at the Dallas County Jail. (See docs. 3, 4.) After Mr. Skinner was advised that he could not sue on behalf of other prisoners, Plaintiff filed his own civil rights complaint on August 19, 2014, using the standard form for prisoners filing a civil rights complaint under 42 U.S.C. § 1983. (See doc. 14.) Page two of the form specifically states:

CHANGE OF ADDRESS

It is your responsibility to inform the Court of any change of address and its effective date. Such notice should be marked "NOTICE TO THE COURT OF CHANGE OF ADDRESS" and shall not include any motion(s) for any other relief. Failure to file a NOTICE TO THE COURT OF CHANGE OF ADDRESS may result in the dismissal of your complaint pursuant to Rule 41(b), Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

Id. On August 20, 2014, the Court entered an order granting Plaintiff's motion to proceed in forma pauperis (IFP) that again specifically advised that he was required to notify the Court of any change of address, and that failure to do so could result in dismissal of the case. (See doc. 16 at 2.) On June 27, 2016, a Magistrate Judge's Questionnaire was mailed to the last address provided by Plaintiff, and it was returned as undeliverable on July 12, 2016. (See docs. 27, 29.) It appears that Plaintiff has changed addresses without notifying the Court as directed.

II. INVOLUNTARY DISMISSAL

Rule 41(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure permits a court to dismiss an action sua sponte for failure to prosecute or follow orders of the court. McCullough v. Lynaugh, 835 F.2d 1126, 1127 (5th Cir. 1988) (§ 1983 prisoner action). This authority flows from a court's inherent power to control its docket, prevent undue delays in the disposition of pending cases, and avoid congested court calendars. Link v. Wabash R.R. Co., 370 U.S. 626, 629-31 (1962). The complaint form and the order dated August 20, 2014, advised Plaintiff that failing to file a change of address could result in dismissal of this action. Because he failed to follow a court order or otherwise show that he intends to proceed with his case, Plaintiff's case should be dismissed under Rule 41(b) for failure to prosecute or follow orders of the court.

III. RECOMMENDATION

The plaintiff's claims should be DISMISSED without prejudice under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(b) for failure to prosecute or comply with court orders, unless he files a notice of change of address within the time for objecting to this recommendation or some other deadline set by the Court.

SIGNED this 13th day of July, 2016.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR SERVICE AND NOTICE OF RIGHT TO APPEAL/OBJECT

A copy of these findings, conclusions and recommendation shall be served on all parties in the manner provided by law. Any party who objects to any part of these findings, conclusions and recommendation must file specific written objections within 14 days after being served with a copy. See 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1); Fed. R. Civ. P. 72(b). In order to be specific, an objection must identify the specific finding or recommendation to which objection is made, state the basis for the objection, and specify the place in the magistrate judge's findings, conclusions and recommendation where the disputed determination is found. An objection that merely incorporates by reference or refers to the briefing before the magistrate judge is not specific. Failure to file specific written objections will bar the aggrieved party from appealing the factual findings and legal conclusions of the magistrate judge that are accepted or adopted by the district court, except upon grounds of plain error. See Douglass v. United Servs. Automobile Ass'n, 79 F.3d 1415, 1417 (5th Cir. 1996).
